Witnesses Prove Minister Withdrew $4,000 From Bank Before Smash

(Special to The Bulletin)

OTTAWA, June 4.—Interest in the House today was overshadowed by the proceedings of the Committee on Privileges and Elections, which met to consider the case of the Hon. James Murlock, accused of having violated the traditions and honor of Parliament by using information gained as a member of the Cabinet, when he withdrew his deposit from the Home Bank two days before it closed its doors for the last time.

One witness, Geoffrey Clarkson, curator of the defunct bank, admitted his evidence, but another, J. P. M. Stewart, a direct, had just begun when the proceedings adjourned until tomorrow. It was proved that Murlock had withdrawn his deposit of $4,000 just before the closing of the bank on August 15, two days before the bank collapsed.

One witness, Geoffrey Clarkson, curator of the defunct bank, admitted his evidence, but another, J. P. M. Stewart, a direct, had just begun when the proceedings adjourned until tomorrow.

Former Attorney-General Declines to Appear Before the Committee and Withdraws Attorneys Who Have Represented Him in Long Proceeding

(Special to The Bulletin)

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Former Attorney-General Daugherty declined to appear before the Senate committee today marked course of the Senate investigation of his storm-to-day by refusing to appear as a witness and by withdrawing the attorneys who have represented him in the prolonged proceedings.

To the last minute the clash of-the controversy, which has raged almost without cessation during nearly four months of the in-proceeding.

The "silence of the tomb had fallen upon the case," Mr. Daugherty declared, "and it is impossible" for him to appear in a declaration that he never during years of office had been guilty of any illegal act, directly or indirectly.

Missionaries Escape, Bearing Heavy Ransom Demand of Chinese Thugs

CANTON, China, June 4.—Their clothes torn and their hats lost, the Rev. Dr. Robert

Jeffrey, Canadian head of the Christian Missionary At-

lance at Fuchow, and Dr. H.

Miller, also of the Missionaries, have returned to Woochow, released by bandits that they might arrange ransom for other missionaries still held captive.

E. H. Carney and Rex Ray,

the two white men held, will be released on receipt by the bandits of $200,000 in gold,

100 pistols, 1,000 rifles, and a large quantity of ammunition, according to Dr. Jeffrey.

Jeffrey and Miller endured great hardships in making their way to the mountain stronghold of the bandits. They were told that they would be allowed to

MORNING NEWS OF THE MARKETS

Prices Advance Rapidly Under Strong Demand on Winnipeg Wheat Market

WINNIPEG, June 4.—After opening unchanged to a fraction lower, an excellent demand came out on the wheat market this morning and prices improved rapidly, the close being at the high of the day and showed a gain of 15¢ cents for both July and October. A much better feeling existed here and at Chicago, with traders inclined to the bullish side of the market. The weather conditions on both sides of the line being considered as unfavorable to crops. Exporters and shippers were in the session, while some short covering was also going on, but the offerings were not heavy and easily absorbed. While sales of Canadian wheat at the seaboard are believed to be holding up well, an estimate came through this morning.

CATTLE PRICES REMAIN STEADY

Local Market Is Fairly Active, Considering the In-different Demand

EDMONTON STOCKYARD, June 4.—Considering the quality of the stock offered, and the indifferent demand, the market was fairly active with all classes especially good, cattle selling at fairly steady prices. Common kinds of cattle were inclined to be slow movers at fancy prices. A few choice animals generally sold at 4.25, medium to good 3.50 to 4.00, good 3.00 to 3.50, good to medium 2.50 to 3.00, medium to good 2.00 to 2.50, good to choice 1.50 to 2.00, medium to good 1.00 to 1.50, good to choice 0.50 to 1.00, medium to good 0.25 to 0.50, good to choice 0.10 to 0.25, medium to good 0.05 to 0.10, good to choice 0.02 to 0.05, medium to good 0.01 to 0.02, good to choice 0.005 to 0.01, medium to good 0.002 to 0.005, good to choice 0.001 to 0.002, medium to good 0.0005 to 0.001, good to choice 0.0002 to 0.0005, medium to good 0.0001 to 0.0002, good to choice 0.00005 to 0.0001, medium to good 0.00002 to 0.00005, good to choice 0.00001 to 0.00002, medium to good 0.000005 to 0.00001, good to choice 0.000002 to 0.000005, medium to good 0.000001 to 0.000002, good to choice 0.0000005 to 0.000001, medium to good 0.0000002 to 0.0000005, good to choice 0.0000001 to 0.0000002, medium to good 0.00000005 to 0.0000001, good to choice 0.00000002 to 0.00000005, medium to good 0.00000001 to 0.00000002, good to choice 0.000000005 to 0.00000001, medium to good 0.000000002 to 0.000000005, good to choice 0.000000001 to 0.000000002, medium to good 0.0000000005 to 0.000000001, good to choice 0.0000000002 to 0.0000000005, medium to good 0.0000000001 to 0.0000000002, good to choice 0.00000000005 to 0.0000000001, medium to good 0.00000000002 to 0.00000000005, good to choice 0.00000000001 to 0.00000000002, medium to good 0.000000000005 to 0.00000000001, good to choice 0.000000000002 to 0.000000000005, medium to good 0.000000000001 to 0.000000000002, good to choice 0.0000000000005 to 0.000000000001, medium to good 0.0000000000002 to 0.0000000000005, good to choice 0.0000000000001 to 0.0000000000002, medium to good 0.00000000000005 to 0.0000000000001, good to choice 0.00000000000002 to 0.00000000000005, medium to good 0.00000000000001 to 0.00000000000002, good to choice 0.000000000000005 to 0.00000000000001, medium to good 0.000000000000002 to 0.000000000000005, good to choice 0.000000000000001 to 0.000000000000002, medium to good 0.0000000000000005 to 0.000000000000001, good to choice 0.0000000000000002 to 0.0000000000000005, medium to good 0.0000000000000001 to 0.0000000000000002, good to choice 0.00

LITTLE JACK RABBIT
DAVID CORY

Why didn't Policeman 22
find the night in the Lilliput Trove?
Perhaps he thought the Chinaman
Would be provoked if he found him there.

Why didn't the Lilliputian find Would find in a rap if his nose
he heard.
At any rate, this Copper Shido
Went home to sleep in his bureau.

Now please don't tell your teacher that I've made a mistake in spelling Bulgarian—I must make the rhyme—there's a lot to it.

Well, dear boys and girls, as I said before, the story before this, you will hear what the little rabbit did next in the park. Where the lawn was (wink after dark), the higher lilliputian stood in the ground, and the Circus Park either around.

Four men again and again, I my typewriter so pretty, I have long hair like a girl. No index he looked! Maybe I must say it now rhymes. But before I do, you will hear what the little rabbit

Meditations of a Married Woman

BY HELEN HOWLAND

THE PRECIOUS JEWEL

A man's wife may be the leading lady of his life—but his private secretary is the stage director, scene shifter, promoter, property man and "ensemble."

She is at once his shield, his watch dog, his buffer, his alibi, his memory, his salaried his censor.

She is the shock absorber between him and all the office pests. He can send her out to stave off the disgruntled client, the irate customer, the importunate salesman or the bill collector, in the sweet assurance that his little buffer and rebuffler will return with the triumphant smile of the tiger on her placid face.

She is his alibi for his careless statements, incorrect quotations and grammatical errors—the shield behind which he hides the language which he throws up when attacked. Verily "misquoting notes" and "typographical errors" have saved many a man from ruin!

She is his star witness for "overtime at the office." He can always PROVE by her that he was "detained on business"—even when the "business" was only a game of pinnoche or Kelly pool. But no man can prove anything by a wife unless it's SO; because a wife WILL ARGUE the matter.

His secretary is his little reminder, a rack on which to hang his cares and all the responsibilities of keeping his appointments. He relies upon her as he does upon his watch—and, somehow, she never fails to urge or nag him to keep his luncheon dates, as his wife has in-urge him to be on time for dinner.

She is his solace and, at the same time, his censor—the little "safety-valve" in which he keeps all his secrets and confides in moments of self-pity how "misunderstood" and "unappreciated" he is.

Yet she "holds him up to his better self," and is a check upon his temper, his extravagance, his explosive swearing and his extreme summer negligee.

A wife may be an "alibi," but a P.S. is a positive addition. And once a man becomes ADDICTED to his Personal Stenographer, he finds her as necessary as his three meals a day and as indispensable as his hat.

He may reason with himself that he could "get along without her." But just let her take a VACATION—and he is lost. A miserable creature, a ship without a rudder, a balloon without ballast, a one-eyed man without a valise—helpless!

And he counts the days, and saves all the hard work, until she gets back!

Oh, yes, "P.S." may stand for Private Secretary, Personal Stenographer, or postscript—but it really means Precious Jewel! (Copyright, 1924, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE STORY OF THE BIBLE

By KENDRICK VAN LOON

For this is what I have heard and seen, and out of the above, I have made out what I think is the true story of the Bible.

The people of the Bible were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

They were not like the people of today. They were not like the people of today.

Take a look at the latest feminine fad—so far it hasn't spread past Hollywood and there are plenty of people who hope it won't.

This might easily be a scene of far-off India, but instead it's at Wembley, when Queen Mary "did" the show with Queen Marie of Rumania.

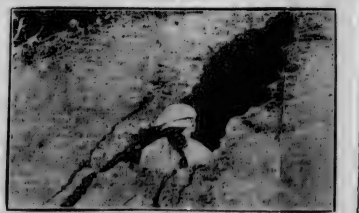

No, not a bunch of movie stars this time, but a party of real honest-to-goodness Canadian westerners, snapped on a C.P.R. prairie train.

The dangerous looking war machine shown has just ambled across a swift running stream and is now starting off across a rough field. It is a recent U.S. Army invention.

Crack, went the starter's gun, and away went a score of Middlesex "milers" at the R.A.F. Stadium at Uxbridge.

Old Mother Earth was all broken up when Kilauea, notorious Hawaiian volcano, recently got wrathful and started to erupt.

Seven Prominent Edmonton Business Men Were Interviewed Yesterday on The Edmonton Bulletin $15,000 Contest—Read What They Say

"What do I think of your Contest? I think it is just fine. I know of three people in other cities who competed in newspaper contests and were very successful. I have in mind a young man who is now general sales manager of a large eastern manufacturing company, who secured his position by coming in contact with his present employers while canvassing for subscriptions in a contest. Every person who has an hour or two spare time should enter your contest, even if they only got ten per cent commission. If they have any initiative at all, this will be the stepping stone to something bigger.

"I worked for several years, trying to get enough money saved up to buy a little business of my own, and here today The Bulletin offers an opportunity of making $2,000 in a few weeks. You should be swamped with applications. Fifteen thousand dollars in prizes, and all cash, too. The man or woman who has a spare hour and really wants to earn some extra money should get in touch with The Bulletin at once, as the very least one can earn is ten per cent. You have certainly made wonderful strides in The Bulletin. It is a real paper. I get it at my house every morning, and just this week I had to subscribe for my office, as my wife insisted on keeping the other one at the house."

"I was agreeably surprised to note that you would not accept subscriptions to The Edmonton Bulletin for over two years. Through this rule, the candidate with a few wealthy friends does not have the advantage."

"I think The Bulletin contest is an excellent proposition for anyone. It gives a young man or woman a wonderful opportunity in studying the various types of people from whom they might solicit subscriptions, and also strengthen their determination and self-confidence. One of our employees entered your contest this week. He asked me what I thought of it. I told him that in my opinion he could do nothing better than to start right in. And, further, I am going to help him all I can. The prizes are wonderful, and even if he doesn't win the $2,000 first prize, he will get ten per cent commission, which is not to be passed up today."

"I started in saving for a home on my twenty-first birthday, but, on account of sickness and hard luck, I did not own my own home until I was nearly forty. Your offer of a $2,250 automobile or $2,000 in cash is the finest and best prize I ever heard of. I like the sentiment of it. I just wish I could leave my business and get into the contest. More power to you."

"I am very much interested in your contest. In fact, I read the contest news with as much interest as any other news. I earned enough money in a newspaper contest to pay my way through college, and we did not have the liberal prizes that The Bulletin is giving. One good feature that I notice about your contest is that there are no strings or red tape about it, and that it only lasts for a few weeks. Everybody gets something. There is no lost time."

"There is just one thing about your contest I do not like, and that is the subscriptions count as much the last week of the campaign as they do now. My personal opinion is that it would be better and fairer to announce an offer of extra votes for the first month and positively guarantee that never again will as many votes be given on the subscriptions; and also guarantee that the smallest number of votes of the whole campaign will be given the last week. If you do this I would suggest that this offer include all subscriptions already turned in."
